OU VOTERS PICK JUDY PRINCESS

Judy Jensen . . . to lead today's festivities as Princess Attira XXXI.

Jensen To Reign Over Ma-ie Day Celebration

By Patti Matsón

A future Omaha school teacher was named Princess Attira XXXI this morning midst the usual excitement and hubbub of Ma-ie Day festivities. She is Judy Jensen, a 22-year-old brown-eyed brunette.

Miss Jensen's attendants are Phyllis Faasse, Chi Omega; Judy McCoy, Zeta Tau Alpha and Ruth Helligso, Sigma Kappa. Judy was elected by an all-school vote May 12. Ballots were counted, but her announcement as Ma-ie Day Princess was kept secret until 9:30 this morning.

Judy will reign over the remainder of the day's activities: games at 10, a steak-fish fry at 11:30, parade line-up at 1:30, parade at 2:30 and dance at 3:30. The parade will take participating students past Creighton University and through the downtown Omaha area. A TGIMD (Thank Goodness its Ma-ie Day) dance will be held in front of the Administration Building pillars after the parade. Judy will be presented again at the 9 p.m. dance tonight at Peony Park.

Activities

Ma-ie Day Princess is not the first honor that has been bestowed on Attira XXXI. As a junior she was declared the winner of another all-school election . . . Junior Prom Queen. She has served as secretary of both her senior and sophomore class. As a sophomore Judy received the "Outstanding Greek Pledge" award, given to the sorority pledge who was most outstanding in grades and activities. Judy has a 2.9 scholastic average.

A member of Angels Flight honorary on campus, Judy was elected Honorary Lt. Colonel by Arnold Air Society earlier in the year. She gets her exercise through marching Angels, a drill group within the flight. Judy also relaxes through the Bowling Club, of which she has been treasurer.

Organizer

On campus the graduating senior organized the Volunteer Bureau, an organization which seeks OU volunteers to fill requests from Omaha's health, education, welfare and recreational agencies. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, of which she has been vice-president (social chairman). She also served as president of her pledge class in 1962 and as public relations chairman. Judy has been named to the Best Dressed List and has been on the Hall of Fame for making the best dressed list for more than one year. Last year she was one of the GATEWAY'S "Coeds of the Week."

Artists Earn $3150 In Annual Auction; Somers Sells Most

The annual art auction which was held Sunday, May 9th from 1 to 5 p.m. brought in approximately $4,200.00. This was about $1,000 over the receipts for last year. This year more money was received per item. Although not every piece of art was sold, there were 327 works in the auction.

Warren Gore served as auctioneer, as in previous years. Students, whose works were top sellers, include Ward Schumaker, Fred Somers, and Ree Troia. One of Somers' paint ings went for $115.00 while a ceramic of Miss Troia's brought $110. Ward Schumaker sold his highest painting for $75. Somers' total receipts were the highest with $528, Ree Troia sold a total of $266.58, and Ward Schumaker's receipts came to $249.25.

Students received 75 per cent of the selling price, while the remaining 25 per cent went to the Art Club fund.

Each Art faculty member had one of his works in a drawing which was held at the auction. Mr. Mike Novak, Omaha businessman and art collector, was the largest single buyer.

ROTC Cadets Gain Awards At President's Day Review

Twenty-one awards were presented to outstanding cadets at the annual Air Force ROTC President's Day Review* in Omaha University's football stadium May 6.

Dr. Leland Traywick presented the President's Medal to Cadet Colonel James E. Keyser. The President's Medal is awarded to the outstanding Cadet in the Corps who has distinguished himself through both military and academic achievement.

The Professor of Aerospace Studies Medal was awarded to Cadet Captain Clarke W. Powers as the Aerospace Studies 3 Cadet who has made the most outstanding contribution to the AFROTC Program.

Other awards presented were the World-Herald Plaque to Cadet Colonel Raymond E. Abel, Jr., the Lt. Colonel Donato N. Vincent Scholarship to Cadet Second Lieutenant Colonel Herbert C. Rhodes, AFROTC Staff Medal-Advanced to Cadet Major Robert D. Cords and the Veterans of Foreign Wars to Cadet Major Richard V. Treake.

Other honors presented were the Air Force Times Award to Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Stanley W. Keast, the 40 at 8 award to Cadet Captain Henry R. Blair, the Chicago Tribune Medal and the Reserve Officers Association Medal was awarded to Cadet Captain Edwin E. Neel, Jr.

The Chicago Tribune Medals-Advanced were awarded to both

Cadet Captain Michael J. Kisgen and Cadet First Lieutenant Jerry L. Vaca.

Other presentations made were the Captain Gil Davis Memorial Award to Cadet Colonel Raymond E. Abel, Jr., the Cadet of the Year award to Cadet Airman First Class Elmer L. Johnstone, A.F. YTC Staff Medal-Basic to Cadet Staff Sergeant Vinton A. Doll, Jr., Rotary Club Medal to Cadet Master Sergeant Lawrence J. Zwart and the General Dynamics Award to Cadet Technical Sergeant Larry L. Wood.

Additional awards presented are the Omaha Chamber of Commerce-Armed Forces Committee Medal to Cadet Technical Sergeant Andris E. Tomps, the American Legion Medal to Cadet Technical Sergeant Melvin R. Cerny and the Sons of the American Revolution Medal to Cadet Technical Sergeant Donald F. Stevens.

The Chicago Tribune Medals-Basic were awarded to Cadet Master Sergeant Lawrence J. Zwart and Cadet Airman Basic Jack B. Anderson for having the highest accumulative academic average for their Aerospace Studies class.

The Squadron of the Year Award went to Squadron 473.

Banquet Will Honor Outstanding Grads

A banquet honoring 13 Omaha University students who will graduate in June with bachelor degrees with distinction will be held next Thursday evening in the Milo Bail Student Center.

The banquet will be sponsored by the committee on Honors and Degrees with Distinction. W. C. B. Lambert is the chairman.

Those to be honored are:

Budget To Regents

Omaha University's fiscal 1966 budget will go before the Board of Regents next Thursday, May 20. At that time, according to President Leland Traywick, the board will give its approval to the budget and/or make revisions on it.

Annual Meet

President Leland Traywick leaves for Williamsburg, Va., tomorrow where he will attend the annual meeting of the Association of Governing Boards of Colleges and Universities.

The meeting will run through next Tuesday.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

For my first three years on this campus I've lent a listening ear to the complaints and the discontents of my friends, both Greeks and non-Greeks, and I feel now is the time to share those ideas with the student body.

Haven't you ever secretly questioned one rule on this campus? Is your silence really an approving one?

Haven't you ever wished the library was open on Sunday? Has anyone running for Student Council ever expressed his views to you on any government issue? Have you ever wondered why the girls must wear skirts in the Student Union, even for bowling on weekends? Has anyone ever asked you if you would prefer one semester of TGIF dances or one big name entertainers? Don't you really think ALL elections on this campus are mere popularity poles? Don't you think class officers is a mis-nomer? Aren't the few deciding everything for you, and furthermore, do those few have any ideas similar to yours?

As a student at this University you can:

Lobby the Student Council for legislation.

Inquire as to why the Lounge is closed.

Ask who made the rule no slacks, shorts, or bermudas for girls in the library.

Object when someone grabs a copy of "Rebellion" out of your hands, making himself something he has no right be "a censor."

Help Omaha University lose the sobriquet "West Dodge High".

Sit on the lawn.

Petition against rising tuition.

Turn Omaha University into a relaxed campus and see some retraction of the binding rules that face you and me daily in the Student Center, Lounge, Cafeteria, Ouampi Room, card room, and the library.

Fellow student, it's up to you—you can continue in silence and accept the pre-digested pill form everything reaches you on this campus or you can speak up, start making a choice, and stop being an echo!

What a great day it will be, when a student who gets a good bank shot or bridge hand, can give a little yell of glee without being subjected to the reprimanding glares of the persons at the desk.

Silence is not golden!

Marsha Curran

Dear Editor:

In response to Editor's note in April 2nd edition of GATEWAY, I feel your reason for not publishing the article I've offered does not have a sound basis. Most high schools require that graduates have two years of foreign language study. One language never omitted in that curriculum, in the smallest of schools, is Spanish. The student at Omaha U who is not studying Spanish will enjoy, I am sure, reviewing what Spanish he remembers in this article. One might make a comparison with cross-word puzzles. I cannot always solve the entire puzzle, but I thoroughly enjoy trying. And if I am really interested, there are sources through which I can obtain the solution.

I am not going to give a high-pressure sales pitch in favor of publication. I am only offering something that should be of benefit to many and an asset to the newspaper. I enclose this list of signatures given to me in support of the foregoing proposal. Thank you.

Belitz And Friedman Tie In Sophomore Council Election

Four representatives from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes were elected to Student Council in an all-school election Wednesday.

Senior Student Council members will be Joe Benson, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jim Solomonson, Lambda Chi Alpha; Pat Karre, Chi Omega and Patti Matson, Chi Omega.

Those representing the junior class next year are Randy Nielson, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Doug Slaughter, Pi Kappa Alpha; Jackie Riley, Alpha Xi Delta and Kathy Wybenga, Alpha Xi Delta.

Jim Sandoz, Pi Kappa Alpha, will serve as a sophomore Student Council representative. The other male sophomore representative will be selected next Wednesday in a run-off election. Buddy Belitz, Pi Kappa Alpha and Sandy Friedman, unaffiliated, tied in Wednesday's vote tally.

Marji Holmquist, Chi Omega and Brenda Williams, Chi Omega will also represent next year's sophomore class on Student Council.

Two students were elected to the Board of Student Publications. They are Livi Bergman, Chi Omega and Kathy Daley, Alpha Xi Delta.

Alumni's Wittekind To Speak To Chadron State Journalists

Warren Wittekind will go to Chadron State Teachers College to be guest speaker at the annual publications dinner tomorrow night.

Wittekind will discuss his experiences in the public relations field.

It was also announced this week that a total of 223 loans were made this year to 158 different students by the Alumni Association's emergency loan fund. The Gateway was also told that 51 people borrowed money more than once and 11 people borrowed more than twice.

Bootstrappers Gain Medals For Their Meritorious Service

Major General K. L. Davis, Commanding General of XVI U. S. Army Corps, Omaha, Neb., presented Army Commendation Medals to three University of Omaha bootstrappers recently.

Those receiving medals were Major Peter W. McGurl, Captain Gerald R. Greene and Captain William R. Tunnell.

Major McGurl received the first Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster (second award of the Commendation Medal) for "exceptionally meritorious service" from May 1963 to January 1965 while serving as Senior Instructor and Branch Chief, Operations and Intelligence Branch, Command and Staff Division, Department of Tactics, U.S. Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala.

McGurl

Captain Green was cited for

"exceptionally meritorious service" from July 1963 to January 1965 while serving as an instructor in the Operations and Intelligence Branch, Command and Staff Division, Department of Tactics, U.S. Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala.

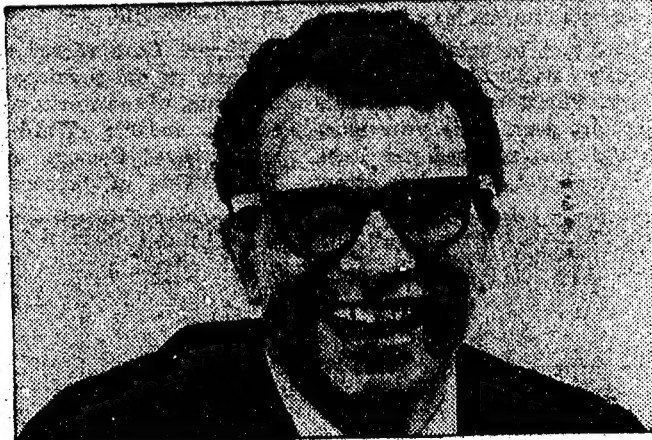

Greene

Captain Tunnell distinguished himself with "exceptionally meritorious service" during the period October 1963 to January 1965, while serving as Liaison Officer for the 131st Army Security agency battalion.

An Old Soap Opera

"And then there was one" . . . That old saying begins an interesting story that's been told this week at OU. Here's how it goes:

There were two teams (once upon a time) . . . one wore sneakers and shirts with their names on the back. The sneaker team climbed into a big wagon and traveled 250 miles to battle against seven other teams for a big prize. They were under much pressure.

Once upon a time there was another team . . . They wore billed caps and had spikes upon their shoes. They carried clubs and wore gloves on their hands.

This team also was under much pressure. But they got to stay home for their big battle.

The two teams had fine leaders. One leader had coached for years and had won many big prizes. The other coach was much less successful and stayed at home all the time to take care of his boys in the school. He never received much glory.

The Smoke Clears

But now the contests are over . . . and who did what? Well, let me tell you what happened. The little coach who stayed home with his boys all year traveled the 250 miles and won the national championship. His team was undermanned and not supposed to win. But they fought hard and wouldn't give up when they were hurt. The results were heard round the nation

They threw heavy round balls down a long alley and knocked down many pins. The other teams also knocked down many pins. But a knight in shining armor knocked down all ten pins twice in a row and the little-knowns from Omaha won it all.

What happened to the other team? Well, the Black Knights from the north rode in and slew the White Knight. The good guys (our side) looked like they might win at first. But the bad guys went ahead because they hit more little white balls harder and more Black Knights touched a wooden square.

The good guys decided that enough was enough and there might be another chance later some time to try and beat the Black Knight, Sir Wayne.

So they finished the contest. Finished it like they had a week before in the Terrible Southland of Sir Emporia. They took no chances and lost, because after all, there would always be another chance.

A New Voice Is Heard

But HARK! Will there be another chance? The leader of the White Knights will go to Lincolnland today to meet with the leaders of the realms of Outstateland.

It is here that the "other" chance will be decided. Will the good guys get a chance to redeem themselves? After all, we are supposed to be better than they are. Haven't we always won in the past?

THE PAST? A dark voice is heard "But what about now?" it says. "We in Outstateland have beaten you, and so have the men from Kansasland. You don't deserve another chance."

"Maybe you are right," say some of the White Knights. "After all, we have played three years already and we have other things to do."

"We will sit back and play a couple of more unimportant games and wait for your decision," say a few of the White Knights.

"But we want to travel too," say a few other White Knights. "We have worked long and hard for another chance."

Will the voices of the young White Knights be heard? Will the good guys get another chance? Or will they have to stay home this year and let the Outstaters play for the big prize?

Stay tuned in this same spot next week for the answer. But don't expect too much

By Mike Moran

Omaha University's steady Bob Bigley threw the two most important strikes of his young bowling career Saturday at Kansas City to bring OU its first national championship in any sport.

Bigley's clutch effort brought him a 202 game and Omaha a 889-853 decision over favored Southwestern Louisiana in the match game of the NAIA Bowling Tournament.

The win over the southern crew, last year's runnerups to Kearney State, gave title winning Omaha a 12-3 record. The Louisiana team fell to third as Christian Brothers took over the second spot on total pins.

Hairy Finish

Until Bigley's heroics, Omaha was on the ropes against Southwestern. The two big strikes came at a time when an open frame would mean sure defeat for the Indians. Anchorman Don Moberg and Southwestern's Tinker DeLage traded marks to wind it up.

Omaha had trailed all the way going into the match game. The Louisiana team led through Friday's first rounds and seemed on their way until OU caught fire.

Omaha and Southwestern split in the sixth block on Saturday to stay close. The Indians opened the tourney by splitting with Western Illinois, 865-836 to 899-839 for the Leathernecks. Central Washington fell twice, 958-844 and 836-825 and Christian Brothers gained a split with OU, losing 891-860, then taking a 1,024-814 decision.

The Indians took the last two Friday matches. Omaha beat West Virginia Tech, 934-909 and 89-859, then took two from Oshkosh (Wisc.) State, 967-941 and 947-928.

Dave Richardson led Omaha through the first day with 1,880 for ten games. Moberg had 1,846, Steve Sheppard 1,832 and Bigley 1,812. Charles Will had 921 in six games and basketballer Bill Olson 822 in four tries.

Rider Falls Twice

Omaha began the big push by tripping Rider College twice on Saturday afternoon, 960-900 and 924-885. The big sweep pushed OU into a virtual tie with Southwestern as the southern team barely gained a split with Oshkosh. That set the stage for the big final match.

In the final game, Southwestern lost second place as Christian Brothers rang up a 969-836 win over Oshkosh to take the runnerup slot on total pins.

Moberg led OU with 2,808 over the 15 game route. Richardson rolled 2,787, Bigley 2,776 and Sheppard 2,766. Olson had a 1,674 in nine games and Will 921 in six efforts.

Southwestern salvaged the doubles title as A. J. Berkely and DeLage beat a Christian Brothers duo of John Ciprian and Nolan Narrow. Ken Thompson of Central Washington won the singles title. Omaha, oddly, didn't even qualify a man for either singles or doubles competition. That, in itself, speaks for the great OU team balance.

Coach Bert Kurth reports that the team is already pointing for next year's tournament again. They like that championship feeling.

The tournament was held at the Triangle Lanes in Kansas City and was sponsored jointly by the National Association of Inter-collegiate Athletics and Brunswick-AMF Bowling Dealers.

Briscoe's Passing "Improved"

Potent Red's Backfield Will Test OU "Pro" Offense In Grid Clash

By Mike Moran

Coach Al Caniglia will unveil his 1965 Indian football team to the public Saturday afternoon in a 2 p.m. intrasquad scrimmage in University Stadium. The annual spring game is free to the spectators.

Omaha's winningest coach will parade some 46 gridders in a game condition scrimmage that will feature all normal game procedures except kick-offs and punting.

The OU staff has divided the squad on the basis of the number one and number two offensive units in spring drills. Caniglia feels that with the exception of the Red backfield, both units are nearly equal in strength. The Red starters have 10 lettermen in their ranks and the Whites have a total of 7 monogram winners. Only non-lettermen in the two starting lineups are Nebraska transfer George Blankenship with the Reds and Bill Ernst, Jim Kay, and transfers Jay Murrell and Rich Vomacka with the White Squad.

Murrell is a 6-4, 225 pounder from Iowa State and Vomacka is another Husker transfer.

Drills Please

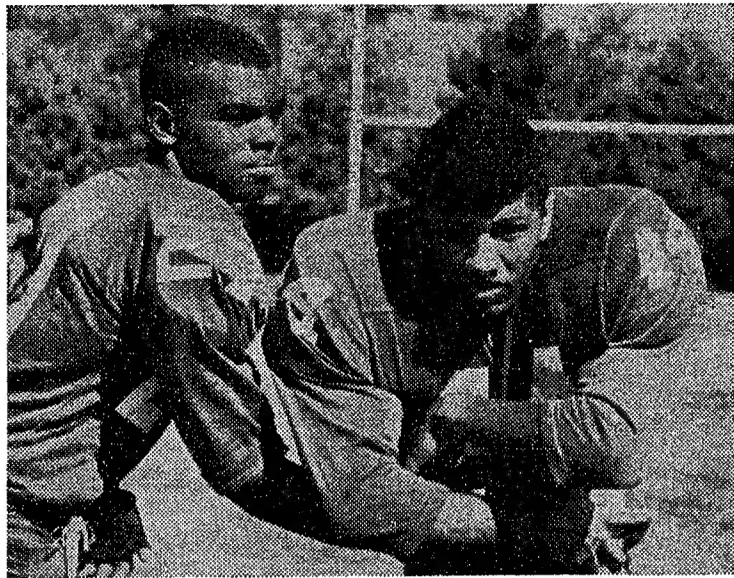

Asked for an evaluation of spring drills, Caniglia said, "I feel we got accomplished everything we set out to do. There have been some minor irritants, like injuries to a couple of key men and the fact that a smaller squad and some class schedules interfered with practice at times."

But on the side of the things that he liked, Al was quite emphatic. "The kids have learned the new offense well, Rick Davis will really give us something as a flanker. His pass receiving has been wonderful." Caniglia went on . . . "Marlin Briscoe's passing is much improved, especially out of the pocket. Newcomer Bill Haas is really going to be a good one, we just started to get a good look at him and he got hurt."

The stocky coach added a few more points: The surprise (or maybe not so surprising) play of transfer George Blankenship . . . the good showing at fullback by Tom Wolff. . . stand-out improvement by Ken Pelan and Bill Jansen . . . and the testing of Gerry Allen's Million dollar knee.

"Bill Dodd is going to be a big help," said Al, "but he has been hurt and slow in responding, so we'll have to take a better look at him next fall." Dodd, the prize Wyoming transfer, hurt a leg early and hasn't seen much activity. He may see limited action tomorrow.

Whites Strong

The Whites are loaded with regulars from last year's line. Lettermen Dave Rak, Tom Hutchinson, Terry Edwards, Jim Norris, and Billy Meyers will cause the Red forwards trouble. The defensive specialists (Bill Barber, Cal McGruder, Charlie Clay, Steve Goethe and others) will move in during specified situations for both teams.

The Red backfield of Davis, Briscoe, Allen, Wolff and maybe Dodd give OU one of its strongest threats in years at all positions.

Omaha is deep in talented ends, both offensively and defensively. Murrell is a big addition and could prove the surprise of the game if he gets in stride.

Observers (myself included) are calling this squad potentially as strong as the two recent CIC champs. Tomorrow will go a long way toward proving it.

PLAYER PROFILES

Bill Jansen

250-pound Bill Jansen, like Tom Hutchison, came to Omaha from the University of Cincinnati last season. He's a Cincy native as well.

Big Bill moved right into a starting offensive tackle spot with the 1964 Indians and went to defense as well to take advantage of his heft.

His blocking was a little lacking at times last year and Bill frequently got tired. But this spring, he has been a different story.

Coaches call him one of the most improved players on the OU squad. He blocks and tackles with authority and his hustling is next to none on the squad. If Bill keeps up the good work, a great year appears in the offing for the big Ohioan.

Tom Hutchison

"Hutch" is a 5-10, 220 pound letterman junior from Cincinnati, Ohio. The big tackle attended the University of Cincinnati for one year before transferring to Omaha U last season.

Tom is quick for his size and carries his weight well on a short frame. He earned his OU letter last season while going pretty much the distance on defense in the forward wall.

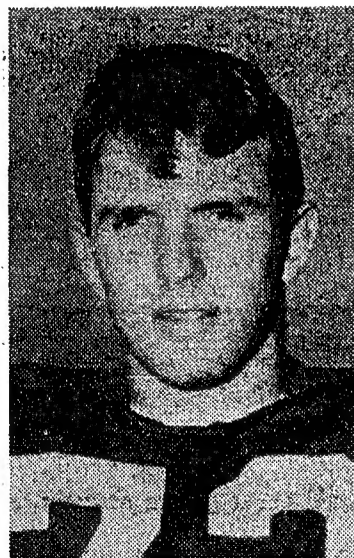

Coaches have tried him on the offensive side this spring and the experiment will be proven or disproven in tomorrow's intrasquad game.

Tom is a real holler guy on the field and the coaches admire him for his spirit and willingness to play the game where it really gets tough.

Ron Stave

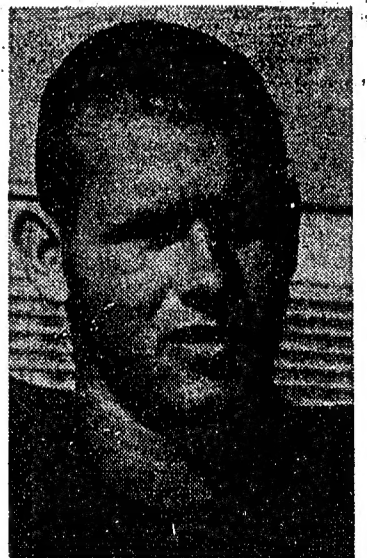

Omaha Westside grad Ron Stave was an All-CIC selection in 1964 after terrorizing opponents on defense. The 230 pounder played little offensively and appeared to be a specialist.

But this year, faster and bigger, Ron has taken over the right tackle spot offensively and seems to like the job. He will probably keep it.

Swift and agile for his size, Stave is an excellent blocker and tackler. He missed one year after losing a battle with the books due to an unusually heavy scholastic load that got the best of him.

Ron's got that end of it straightened out now and he's all-business on the field.

Stave was one of the real "finds" his freshman year. He played on a poor team his senior year at Westside and went almost unnoticed.

Dave Rak

Dave Rak was a real surprise when he came to Omaha U three years ago. He played almost no football at South High and there were those that doubted his coming out for the sport at Omaha U. But they sure were wrong and Dave made his mark quickly.

As a freshman, he started several games and proved to be one of the best blocking tackles on the squad despite his relatively small (215) frame.

The South grad has since earned two letters and the praise of the OU staff for a job well done. He's a hustler and a willing boy who is easy to coach, says the men who seem to know. Rak needs to learn a few more things about the finer points of the game. But the feeling is that when he does, OU will have a real good one.

Final Standings

Fort Hays	894
Washburn	895
Omaha U	959
Pittsburg	974
Emporia	991

Fort Hays State, down by 11 strokes going into the final 18 holes, rallied to beat favored Washburn and take the CIC golf championship at Hays Tuesday.

The winners tied the score on the sixth hole of the final round. Then, when Washburn's Bay Chotlos overshot the green on the final hole, R. J. Smiley of the Tigers tapped in a short putt for the winning one stroke margin, 894-895.

Smiley led Hays with a 214 for the 54 hole championship round. Omaha University was a distant third, Pittsburg fourth and Emporia fifth.

OU's Jim Thompson paced the Indians with a 233, good for ninth in the overall standings. He sank a 140 yard eagle on the 382 yard-par four ninth hole.

Other Omaha entrants and their standings: Jim Nicholson, twelfth. . . Bill Hoffman, thirteenth. . . John Fullerton had a 249 and Paul Anderson 258 for Omaha.

Short Notes

The Intramural golf tournament will be held May 19 through the 23rd at Elmwood Park near the campus. David Larson is the secretary for the tournament.

The tennis tournament is already underway. Players should turn their results into the Intramurals Office in the Student Center as soon as matches are completed.

Pittsburg Cops, 6-0

Pittsburg State won the CIC baseball tournament Monday night with a 6-0 victory over stubborn Washburn at Emporia, Kansas.

Kerry Compton of the Gorillas authored a five hitter and struck out twelve for Pittsburg. The win automatically qualified Pittsburg for the NAIA Area Playoffs at Omaha next week.

Omaha Fares Poorly At CIC

How They Finished

Fort Hays	90 1/2	Washburn	30
Emporia	87	Omaha U.	20
Pittsburg	59 1/2

Several individual performances over shadowed the last place finish by Omaha University's entrants in the CIC Track and Field Championships at the University of Washburn in Topeka, Kan. May 7th and 8th.

Ken Gould established two new OU records. The first record was set in the 3,000 meter steeplechase with the time of 10:01.2. Ken's second OU record was set in the grueling three-mile run, his time 14:33.9.

Half-miler Ray Hultman didn't qualify but he did better his University 880-yd record by .01 of a sec.

Clyde Ketelsen, and Ed Neel placed third and fourth respectively in the 120-yd high hurdles. Hurdler Gary Powers was leading the 120-yd highs finals when he fell over a hurdle, thus eliminating a third possible OU high hurdler finisher in the finals.

Gould Second

Ken Gould ran second in the mile behind Fort Hayes State's John Mason who won in the time of 4:17.5 just .07 tenths of a sec. ahead of Gould, who's time was 4:18.2.

Omaha's 440-yd relay team ran a close fourth behind Washburn University at 43.9. Sprinter Max Kurtz, as described by coach Lloyd Cardwell, "ran real fine" with his :10, and :22 in the 100 and 220-yd dashes.

Coach Cardwell said with the AAU meet coming up on May 28 and 29th in Fremont, many of his cindermen indicated that they would like to run with the turf season ended.

Only Ken Gould, and Gary Powers are eligible to participate in the NAIA national meet June 4th and 5th. The NAIA sets a minimum performance standard to qualify and Gould and Powers have both qualified.

Washburn made a shambles of the rest of the field last Friday to win the Central Intercollegiate Conference tennis tournament.

The Blues took all five singles matches as they became the first team ever to achieve that feat in CIC history. The Topeka crew picked up 12 points in singles competition.

Emporia State, Fort Hays, Pittsburg and Omaha trailed the red-hot Washburn netters.

Jay Netmen Breeze

Creighton University's tennis team won all five singles matches Wednesday while defeating Omaha U., 6 to 1, at Dewey Park. Results:

Singles—Jim Fogarty, Creighton, defeated Ron Grothe, 6-3, 6-3. John Lammers, Creighton, defeated Mike Kobold, 6-2, 6-2. John Eastley, Creighton, defeated Prentice Besore, 6-3, 6-4. Brian Finnerty, Creighton, defeated Alan Olson, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Bob Dobson, Creighton, defeated Jerry Giles, 6-4, 6-3. Doubles—Fogarty-Sam Brown, Creighton, defeated Grothe-Besore, 10-8, 6-3. Kobold-Olson, Omaha, defeated Eastley-Dobson, 6-3, 6-4.

Omaha U's Baseballers Suddenly Find Themselves In Deep Slump

By Mike Moran

Omaha University, daring and sharp during the first three innings, did an about face in the final stanzas and lost its third game in a row, 5-3, to Wayne State Wednesday night.

The loss was especially tragic because Omaha coach and athletic director Virgil Yelkin must go to Lincoln this afternoon and try to convince a panel of three other Nebraska College baseball coaches that his team deserves a spot in the NAIA Area playoffs next week right here in Omaha.

Two Nebraska teams and two from Kansas will make up the four team field that begins play Thursday night at Rosenblatt Stadium. Wayne, the favorite in the NCC and CIC champ Pittsburg appear to be shoe-ins. Wayne's defeat of Omaha made their case really good.

A Chance

Omaha still has a chance, however, because the other Nebraska team must come from a list that is not very impressive, except for Omaha U.

OU won the Area Playoffs last year by beating Wayne. The Indians then lost to Mayville in the regional finals for the national tourney berth.

But the way Omaha has been playing lately, they might be better off forgetting the tournament this year. OU players were undecided as a group Tuesday whether to accept an invitation or not. That attitude certainly does not seem part of a champion's makeup.

Omaha's veteran pitchers haven't been getting the hitting help from their teammates. Mental errors and sloppy play has hurt. The team's attitude has been lacking considerably in recent weeks.

The Indians face William Jewell tomorrow night at Rosenblatt Stadium before travelling to Brookings, South Dakota for a pair with South Dakota State on Monday to wind up the regular season.

Hopes Fade

Omaha looked like a sure winner against Wayne in the first three innings, taking a 3-0 lead on Gary Gilmore's line shot over the leftfield fence in the first and two runs is in the second on a nifty squeeze play.

Attempted Squeeze Play by Omaha fans... Krehbiel fouls

But the dikes burst in the fifth and Wayne pushed over five runs, mostly due to OU mental errors and a bloop single by Duane Wehrer.

The shock of the five runs was apparently too much for Omaha and they staged the into-the-shell tactics that hurt them at the CIC tourney when they fell behind.

Gary Girouard relieved Larry Krehbiel for Omaha and was absolutely magnificent in the four frames he worked. He struck out nine of the twelve men he faced and was bullet fast all the way.

Omaha couldn't mount a threat for Gary, however and lost the old ball game the easy way, by playing dead.

Omaha is 13-5 on the season while the Wildcats are 8-5 and blessed with a great shot in the arm, courtesy of Omaha U.

Favored Omaha University, in a shocking turn of events, lost two games in a row and became the first team out of the CIC baseball tournament last Thursday at Emporia, Kansas.

Host E-State dumped OU, 4-2, in the first game to hand

Omaha ace Larry Krehbiel his first collegiate loss after sixteen wins in three years.

The loss broke a six game Omaha win streak. Omaha took a 2-0 lead in the third inning on a double by Harold Lenz. But a pair of two run doubles by Emporia's Merrill Hurst and Bill Wendell plated four Hornet runs and gave the Kansas team the ball game.

Omaha lefty Larry Wood finished up one inning for Krehbiel without being touched.

Washburn Wins

Omaha was sent packing in the day's second game as the Washburn Ichabods pulled a 5-1 surprise. Omaha righthander Gary Girouard got his first taste of defeat in that one.

Washburn took a 2-0 lead in the third and widened it to 5-1 in the seventh as Omaha could not muster a threat off Lefty Jerry Robertson of the Blues.

Fourteen OU players saw action in a futile attempt to crack the Washburn lead. OU coach Virgil Yelkin, disgusted over questionable umpiring, poor weather, lousy field conditions, short fences, and his team's low morale, said "We had a better team than these two, we got our daubers down and played dead."

The losses were numbers three and four against twelve wins for Omaha.

Buzzer Says 'Free Lunch'

By Bob Erxleben

There's no such thing as a free lunch!!!

After two semesters of economics, that one small tidbit of information seems to be the only thing I retained from my study of the "dismal science."

But, knowing that one vital fact, I felt that I was somewhat of an economic man (as economists sometimes refer to themselves.)

Secure in my knowledge, I smugly sauntered into the OU-ampi Room for lunch. As I stopped to pour my coffee, an impatient patron behind me began edging forward. Before you could say Adam Smith, he had crowded past me and up to the cashier. Just as the cashier was about to ring up his lunch, the harsh buzz of an alarm clock rang the air.

The cashier then informed this eager beaver (I use that mild phrase only to avoid a possible libel suit) that his lunch was free. Yours truly had to shell out hard-earned coins for his simple fare. Ah well, such is life!

The ring-the-alarm-clock-get-a-free-lunch policy is the brainchild of Food Service head Mrs. Carol Graham. It is aimed at spreading contentment and good will among the student body. The alarm sporadically goes off two or three times an hour. When the alarm rings, the lucky individual about to pay the cashier skips off with a free lunch.

Touche', economists.

This new giveaway program inspires me to coin a new definition of fairness. Fairness is having the alarm ring when all you have is a cup of coffee.

Future Teachers Will Conduct Active Week

Two activities are scheduled next week for education students. The Student Education Association will hold a tea next week for high school students who are interested in teaching careers. It will take place next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will hold a picnic in the Elmwood Park pavillion on the same day from 5 p.m. until 6:30 p.m.

Tea Held Wednesday For Graduating Angels

A tea was held Wednesday honoring senior members of Angel Flight in the Student Center. Graduating Angels are Linda Anderson, Joyce Borland, Marsha Cathcart, Ginny Cole, Judy Gilbert, Ellen Goesser, Judy Jensen, Judy McCoy, Billie Poulson and Jan Thompson.

Cushenbery To Oversee Clinic

Dr. Donald C. Cushenbery will be the new head of the OU graduate program in reading in the fall. He is currently head of the OU Reading Clinic.

Roy Toothaker from the Turner (Kansas) Unified School District will assume Dr. Cushenbery's old position.

From May 5 to 8, Dr. Cushenbery attended the tenth annual convention of the International Reading Association. The meeting was held in Detroit, Mich. where 7,000 IRA members convened.

"At the convention I talked with reading authorities about the national reading program in general and the OU program in particular," Dr. Cushenbery said.

He commented that many of these authorities had heard of OU's graduate reading program and congratulated him on behalf of OU.

Just before Cushenbery returned to Omaha, the Board of Directors of IRA named him Nebraska state chairman of the association. His term begins in June.

He will be responsible for organizing new councils in the state and helping the existing reading councils.

Play it cool, listen to KWOV for pleasurable music.

Corinthians Choose Next Year's Slate

Corinthians, the junior-senior scholastic honorary, has elected new officers for the 1965-66 term.

The new president of the honorary is Frank Nocita. Other officers are Sally Sheppard, vice president; Linda Flack, secretary and Myra Hellbusch, treasurer.

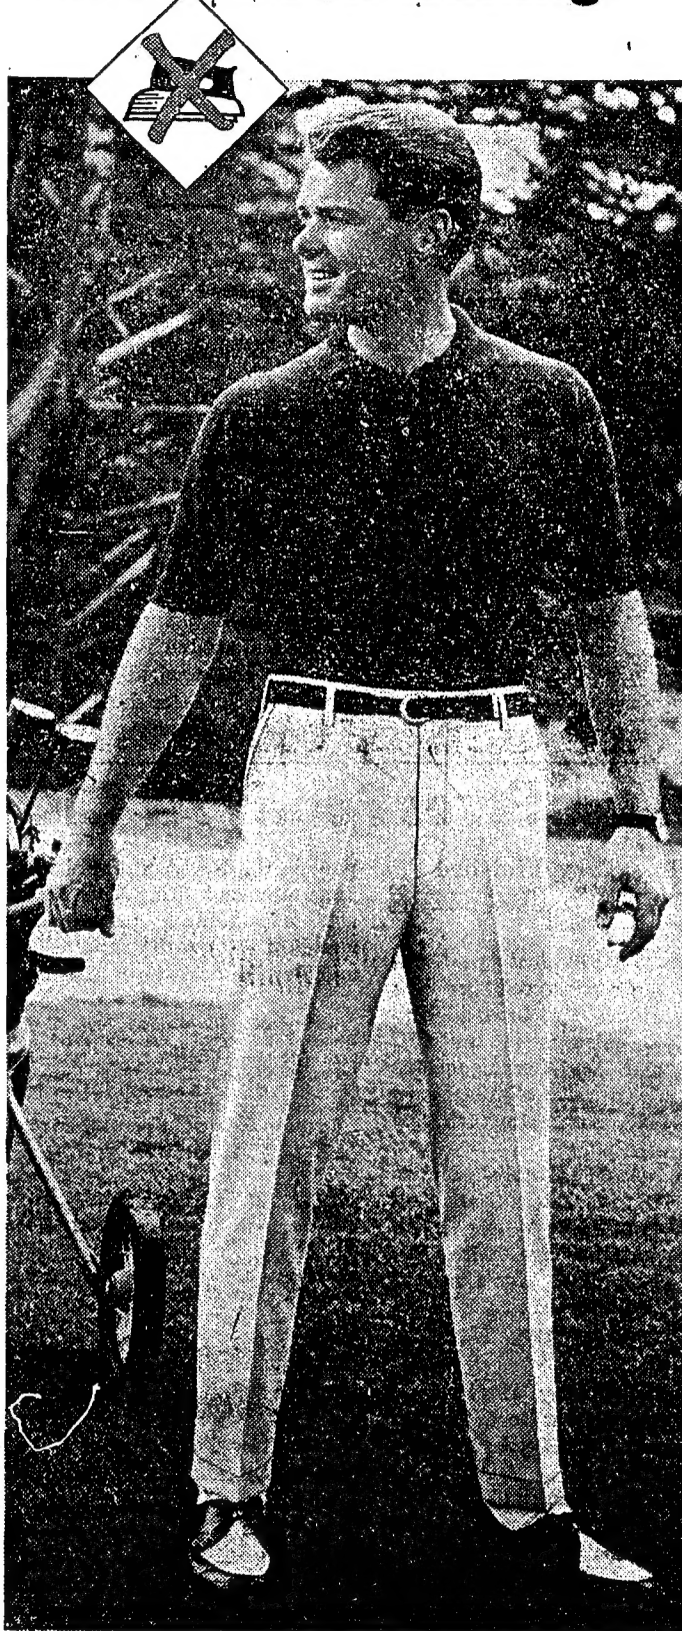

Gorman to Participate In Annual Heart Meet

Dean Frank H. Gorman of the College of Teacher Education will participate at the annual meeting of the Nebraska Heart Association being held at the Blackstone Hotel.

Dean Gorman, who is on the organization's board of directors will be chairman of a panel discussion.

By solving problems in astronautics, Air Force scientists expand man's knowledge of the universe. Lt. Howard McKinley, M.A., tells about research careers on the Aerospace Team.

(Lt. McKinley holds degrees in electronics and electrical engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology and the Armed Forces Institute of Technology. He received the 1963 Air Force Research & Development Award for his work with inertial guidance components. Here he answers some frequently-asked questions about the place of college-trained men and women in the U.S. Air Force.)

Is Air Force research really advanced, compared to what others are doing? It certainly is. As a matter of fact, much of the work being done right now in universities and industry had its beginnings in Air Force research and development projects. After all, when you're involved in the development of guidance systems for space vehicles—a current Air Force project in America's space program—you're working on the frontiers of knowledge.

What areas do Air Force scientists get involved in? Practically any you can name. Of course the principal aim of Air Force research is to expand our aerospace capability. But in carrying out this general purpose, individual projects explore an extremely wide range of topics. "Side effects" of Air Force research are often as important, scientifically, as the main thrust.

How important is the work a recent graduate can expect to do? It's just as important and exciting as his own knowledge and skill can make it. From my own experience, I can say that right from the start I was doing vital, absorbing research. That's one of the things that's so good about an Air Force career—it gives young people the chance to do meaningful work in the areas that really interest them.

What non-scientific jobs does the Air Force offer? Of course the Air Force has a continuing need for rated officers—pilots and navigators. There are also many varied and challenging administrative-managerial positions. Remember, the Air Force is a vast and complex organization. It takes a great many different kinds of people to keep it running. But there are two uniform criteria: you've got to be intelligent, and you've got to be willing to work hard.

What sort of future do I have in the Air Force? Just as big as you want to make it. In the Air Force, talent has a way of coming to the top. It has to be that way, if we're going to have the best people in the right places, keeping America strong and free.

What's the best way to start an Air Force career? An excellent way—the way I started—is through Air Force Officer Training School. OTS is a three-month course, given at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Texas, that's open to both men and women. You can apply when you're within 210 days of graduation, or after you've received your degree.

How long will I be committed to serve? Four years from the time you graduate from OTS and receive your commission. If you go on to pilot or navigator training, the four years starts when you're awarded your wings.

Are there other ways to become an Air Force officer? There's Air Force ROTC, active at many colleges and universities, and the Air Force Academy, where admission is by examination and Congressional appointment. If you'd like more information on any Air Force program, you can get it from the Professor of Aerospace Studies (if there's one on your campus) or from an Air Force recruiter.

19-Day Meet Slated On Omaha U Campus

The University of Omaha campus will be the site of a Workshop in Economics Education from July 12 through July 30.

Co-directors of this three-week workshop will be Dr. E. J. Steele, head of OU's department of economics and Dr. Paul C. Kennedy, head of the department of secondary education here.

The workshop will be held in co-operation with the Omaha Public Schools, the Nebraska Council for Economics Education and the Joint Council for Economics Education.

President Leland Traywick is tentatively planning on participating.

Alpha Lambda Delta Picks New Officers

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, met last week to elect officers. They are: Janet Archer, president; Janet Voelte, vice-president; Virginia Todd, secretary; Noel Weimer, treasurer; Brenda Williams, historian; Delores Hurlburt, junior adviser and Pauline Williams, senior adviser.

Psych Class Travels To Mental Institution

An Educational Psychology class taught by Dr. Francis Hurst was exposed to various types of mental deficiency recently.

Dr. Hurst and his class journeyed to the State Institute for the Mentally Retarded in Beatrice, Nebr. to visit the mentally retarded.

They returned during the evening after leaving at 7:30 a.m. that morning.

Dr. Hurst makes the trip every year if enough students are interested.

Spanish Club Fiesta Offers Food, Music

The Fiesta de Mayo will be sponsored by the Spanish Club Sunday.

A Spanish menu is planned for the fiesta. Entertainment includes a guitar combo and a Spanish trio.

The fiesta will be held at the Inter-American G.I. Forum from 3 to 4:30 p.m. All foreign language students are invited to attend the event.

On tranquilizers, try KWOU instead, your campus radio station.

Harkness Writes Book About College Staffs

A university may seem to be guided by only the faculty and administration, said Dr. Charles Harkness, head of Omaha University's University Studies Division, but there is much more to a college than the faculty.

People tend to lose track of the important role the staff plays in an organization, Dr. Harkness said. With this idea in mind, Dr. Harkness has written a book dealing with problems involved in selecting, organizing and administering a staff. The book, entitled College Staff Personnel Administration, has just been released.

It is designed for small colleges and universities that do not or cannot employ personnel managers, Dr. Harkness said. It not only provides "how-to" information for the person who finds himself in a personnel administration position but also gives up-to-date insights into staff problems as they pertain to the administrator.

Life is action and passion; therefore, it is required of a man that he should share the passion and action of his time at peril of being judged not to have lived.

Bootstrappers Meet At OU, Then Marry; Good Hunting For Cupid In Pen And Sword

An Air Force Lieutenant, Joseph Namaksy and his bride, the former Captain Diane Batchelder, will be reunited on the Omaha University campus today.

The newlyweds met at the beginning of the fall semester in 1964. Lieutenant Namaksy came to OU in June and Captain Batchelder arrived in September. Both were appointed to the Executive Council of the Society of the Pen and Sword. Joe was placed in charge of public relations and she was assigned as his assistant.

Diane graduated in March and returned to her assignment in the Office of Public Information, Department of the Air Force at the Pentagon.

The next month Joe went to Washington. They were married at Bolling Air Force Base on April 15.

After graduation in June both Lt. and Mrs. Joe Namaksy will have assignments in Hawaii.

Dropouts Attempt To Forget

"When dropouts leave the University, they would like to forget us," said Dr. Charles Harkness, head of the University Studies division. He bases his statement on three surveys conducted among University Studies' students who have dropped for reasons other than grades. The first two surveys, said Dr. Harkness, were sent to students four to five months after they dropped. Only 40 to 50 per cent of those replied. The third survey, however, was sent out one month after the students dropped and was followed up later by a postcard-reminder. Still, only about 50 per cent answered, said Dr. Harkness.

Dr. Harkness also questioned a student who used money as the excuse for dropping out. Of the individuals who answered the above question the few who listed money as their main problems had an average grade point of .94. Dr. Harkness said, "Did the concern for money incapacitate the individual so his studies slipped or did he just use money for an excuse? Which came first?"

Business Class Studies Cases

Reports of an unsound fiscal policy have been heard around campus. One company has actually gone broke.

Threat to our national economy? Not really. The company is an imaginary one, part of a project in Mr. Jack Hill's Business Policy and Administration class.

The Executive Game, as the project is called, was devised by IBM to simulate real-life business situations.

At the onset of the game, students take over management of the company which is in shaky financial condition. The purpose of the game is to restore the company to a sound basis.

Students, working in groups of five, decide how much money should be used in production, advertising and marketing. These decisions are fed into OU's IBM computer to show what would happen in a particular economy.

The results are used to continue playing the game. It is estimated that the decisions the students make in one day cover a 2-year period in actual conditions.

The project has been well-received by the students. One felt that the principles used could be incorporated in other classes.

Song Contest; Tapping At Annual Spring Sing

The annual Spring Sing sponsored by Waokiya, senior women's honorary and Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, will be held in the Student Center Ballroom at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Groups participating in the Sing must consist of not less than 12 and not more than 20 people. Each group will sing one contest song and one other song of their own choice. Judging will be based on the contest song only.

The women's contest song is Peter Piper. Men competing in the Sing will sing Greenfields.

Tapping for Waokiya and ODK will follow the Sing.
